About me

I am a student of Ivane Javakhishvili Tbilisi State University at the Faculty of Economics and Business, but my great desire was to study and work as a Front-End Web Developer. My passion and commitment to my work has always enabled me to take pleasure in what I do and strive for achieving my goals. I am a determined and adaptable person, who constantly aspires for novelty. I also have a very well developed problem solving, communicational and analytical thinking skills.
